

Culturally Responsive Teaching & Multicultural Online Resources

Resources for Educators and Students

www.wimedialab.org/biographies/index.html

Wisconsin Biographies is a new collection of free educational, online media resources to enrich your social studies and literacy curriculum, using the stories of famous people in Wisconsin history. Students can define, analyze, compare and contrast historical figures, time periods, eras and themes, including westward expansion, slavery, women's suffrage, innovation, and civil rights.

www.immigrantarchiveproject.com

The Immigrant Archive Project is an independent national initiative dedicated to preserving the life stories of America's immigrant population. They accomplish this by recording, in their own words, the intimate stories of immigrants of all nations.

www.theways.org

The Ways is an ongoing series of stories from Native communities around the central Great Lakes. This online educational resource for students supports educators in meeting the requirements of Wisconsin Act 31, seeking to expand and challenge current understanding of Native identity and communities.

<http://www.plimoth.org/media/olc/intro.html>

What really happened at the First Thanksgiving? Become a history detective and find out! In this fun, award-winning activity, kids take on the role of "history detectives" to investigate what really happened at the famous 1621 celebration.

<http://www.scholastic.com/teachers/student-activities>

Scholastic website has interactive websites, slide shows, lesson plans and of course, books!

www.remember.org

Holocaust: Remember is an online multimedia library of resources on the Holocaust includes photographs, a teacher's guide, poetry, and myriad other diverse learning experiences for both teachers and students.

www.disabilityhistory.org

Disability History: This site represents a movement by people with disabilities to reclaim their history and to highlight the contributions of people with disabilities in the history of the world. Resources include a timeline and an index of related sites.

Resources for Educators

www.zinnproject.org

The Zinn Education Project promotes and supports the use of Howard Zinn's best-selling book A People's History of the United States and other materials for teaching a people's history in middle and high school classrooms across the country. The website offers more than 100 free, downloadable lessons and articles organized by theme, time period, and reading level. Its goal is to introduce students to a more accurate, complex, and engaging understanding of United States history than is found in traditional textbooks and curricula.

www.ncld.org

The National Center for Learning Disabilities (NCLD) team envisions a society in which every individual possesses the academic, social and emotional skills needed to succeed in school, at work and in life. Learn more about our credo, programs, events, and more below.

www.welcomingschools.org

Welcoming Schools offers professional development tools, lessons aligned with the Common Core State Standards, and many additional resources for elementary schools on embracing family diversity, avoiding gender stereotyping and affirming gender, ending bullying and name-calling.

www.rethinkingschools.org

The online version of this journal, published by Rethinking Schools, a nonprofit publisher run by activist teachers, contains highlights from the print version and other progressive education reform resources. Many of the articles and lesson ideas are free.

www.teachingtolerance.org

Founded in 1991 by the Southern Poverty Law Center, Teaching Tolerance is dedicated to reducing prejudice, improving intergroup relations and supporting equitable school experiences for our nation's children. TT provides free educational materials to teachers.